EXQUISITE CORPSE is a game played by the Surrealists artists as a way to create images as a group. The game involves passing around sheets of paper with each person contributing parts of what would become a fantastical creature or object. Each part of the creature or object would be hidden from the next person working on the object. The result can be silly, scary, and fun!

Instructions

1. Print out this sheet and use the blank spaces to draw a person, animal, or object. It can be anything as long as it has a top, middle, and bottom.
2. The marks in each section show where your drawings’ parts should meet. The top and middle meet in between the first set of lines and the middle and bottom in the second, wider set of lines.
3. Color and decorate your drawing as much as you would like.
4. Carefully cut our your pieces along the dotted lines.
5. Mix up your pieces and reassemble each with a top, middle, and bottom.
6. You can name your fun new creations. Where are they from? Do they move? Can you move like they would? What do they sound like? What stories would they tell about themselves?
7. Mix them up and reassemble them as much as you would like. Print out more sheets and add more pieces to your puzzle.
